Translation of a Relation sent by his Highness Prince Charles of Lorraine to the Queen of Hungary. Dated at the Head Quarters of the Austrian Army at Lebendorff, May 10, 1743, N. S.

YOUR Majesty will have seen by my former Dispatches, that I was making all possible Disposidons, not only for annoying the Enemy, but for giving Battle to their whole Force, whether united, or in separate Corps. In Consequence thereof, the following Event has been brought about by Divine Providence, after I had taken the Measures, which I shall now give your Majesty an Account of, for entering upon Action. I gave Orders for the Army, which remained in Winter Quarters to the beginning of this Month, to march on the 6th Instant into the new Camp of Griesbach, which was executed sooner than was expected. I left near Altheim, on the other Side of the Inn, a Body of Observation under the Command of the General of Horse Count de Hohenembs. The Camp being formed, I sent a Detachment under Lieutenant General Bernclau and Count Nadasti, to Pfarkirchen, with Orders to surprize and bring off the Partisan La Croix with all his People, which they happily executed, he, and his whole Party, consisting of about 300 Men, having been either kill'd, or made Prisoners, after some Resistance. Thereupon the French, who were in Garrison at Eggenselden, abandon'd that Place, leaving behind them some Magazines of Hay and Straw, and 50 Sick. Two French Regiments of Horse, who were at Thaun, followed those of Eggenselden, having retreated, as I understand, towards Garghoffen and Dinkelsling upon the Iser.

After this favourable Beginning, I turn'd towards Braunau, in the Neighbourhood of which, near Limbach, there lay a Body of Bavarians. To rout these also I determin'd to march thither the 8th, with the whole Force I had assembled, and I came the same Evening to Ahring, from whence the Army march'd the next Morning towards Braunau, after having continued all Night under Arms. The Vanguard, consisting of 2000 Horse, and 19 Companies of Grenadiers, was under the Command of Lieutenant General Berlichingen, Major General Plaz, Colonel Tierheim, a Lieutenant Colonel, and two Majors. I had given them Orders to attack the Church of Erlach, which was defended by a double Palisadoe, and cheveux de Frize, and to carry it if possible by Assault. General Berlichingen had begun to put these Orders in Execution, having for that Purpose placed his Horse on the Right of the Church, and his Foot on the Left. But as it was found so strongly intrench'd, and the Approaches to it embaras's'd with hewn Trees, and as the Enemy had still a Communication with it behind from their Camp, and the Town of Braunau, from whence they continually sent fresh Men, having increas'd the Number of the Garrison from 100, which it was at first, to 300, so that it could not be storm'd without a considerable Loss, it was necessary to bring up four Field Pieces, which play'd upon the Church with good Success, whilst the Grenadiers were making themselves Masters of the neighbouring Houses. Then, the Cavalry being order'd to the Right, not only to cut off the Communication with the Enemy, but to attack them too, I summon'd the Garrison to surrender themselves Prisoners of War, which they did to the Number of 280 Men, and their Officers say that they had above 30 kill'd. At the same Time I was making Dispositions for attacking the Enemy's Camp near Limbach, which lay behind a large and deep Ditch, thro' which there run a Rivulet, which made the Ground marshy about it, and which could not be pass'd without a Bridge; Besides that their Camp itself was in other respects so well situated, that all the General Officers agreed they had never seen so strong an one, it being, besides the Ditch abovemention'd, secured by Ravelins, and the Avenues to it that Way made impassable. However, an Attempt was made to attack the Enemy in Front, and the Cavalry expos'd themselves for that Purpose some Time to the Fire of their Artillery. But having found the Undertaking impossible, I resolved to send General Berlichingen round about to possess the Eminences on the Right, which cost so much Time and Labour, that I had hardly any hopes left of coming at the Enemy for that Day. The Position of their Horse and and Foot varied according to the Ground, and to the Motions made on our Side. General Minuzzi, who commanded them in Chief, having ſhew'd his Skill in taking all Advantages, I was oblig'd to think of new Meaſures for facilitating our Attack.

Accordingly, after taking the Church, as above, I detached General Berlichingen with 2000 Horſe, and Count Plaz with nine Companies of Grenadiers, a great Way round by the Mountains, to endeavour to get over the deep Ditch which went far into the Country, and I placed in a Mill on the Left Colonel Tierheim, with ſix Companies of Grenadiers and 150 Croates: I likewiſe poſted Major General St. Ignon with a Body of Horſe and two Companies of Grenadiers on the ſame Side with General Berlichingen. The Huſſars under General Nadaſti (who came back very luckily at that Time from the Expedition above-mentioned) I divided into two Bodies, and poſted the firſt towards the two Cannons of General St. Ignon's Corps, that they might paſs the Ditch, which was in that Part not ſo ſteep, and the other more to the Left. In the mean while Count Berlichingen appeared upon the Hills, and Count Nadaſti having paſſed the Ditch with great Labour, and the Enemy preparing to repulſe him, Berlichingen advanced, and Nadaſti fell upon the Enemy in Front and Flank, which put them to Flight, both their Horſe and Foot being overthrown. General Berlichingen purſued them, and the Generals Lucheſe and Secbellony ſhewed great Valour upon this Occaſion. By this Time three more of our Regiments of Foot had paſſed the Ditch, and joined in the Purſuit of the Enemy, whoſe Infantry was very much galled by the Fire which Colonel Count Tierheim made upon them by his Musketeers from the Mill. While this was doing, your Majeſty's whole Infantry paſſed the Ditch, and form'd itſelf in half an Hour's Time on the other Side. Colonel Tierheim purſued the Enemy to the Bridge of Braunau, where the Garriſon fearing our Men would enter together with their own, ſhut up the great Gate, and left only the Wicket open. But your Majeſty's Troops had ſurrounded the Enemy from the Eminences to the Bridge, and killed, wounded, or taken Priſoners a good Number of Officers and Soldiers. However, a conſiderable Part of their Horſe, as well as Foot, got into the Town at the Beginning of the Action, but after the ſhutting up of the great Gate, and our Men being ſo near it, General Berlichingen drove a great many into the Inn, which ſome ſwam over, others endeavoured to paſs by laying hold of the Tails of the Horſes, but few eſcaped that Way, and a great Number of their Troopers periſhed miſerably in the River. General Nadaſti continued the Purſuit towards Markel till late at Night. Your Majeſty's Troops have taken Priſoners in this Action, Count Minuzzi General of the Artillery and the Enemy's Commander in Chief, the Generals Preiſing and Gabrieli, which laſt has a very bad Wound in the Face, many other Field Officers, and a good Number of Soldiers, of which I ſhall ſend a Liſt when they are all brought in. It is impoſſible as yet to know the exact Number of the Slain, a great Quantity have been already found, without reckoning the drowned. We have taken ſome Standards, and the Enemy's Cannon.

In a Word, the Victory is compleat. The King of Sweden's Regiment, and that of Grabrieli Dragoons, came up but at Five in the Evening to the Aſſiſtance of the others: The Colonel of the former is taken Priſoner, and owns that his Regiment is entirely ruined. Your Majeſty's Army is now encamped upon the ſame Ground where the Enemy was encamped before, and have ſuſtained but a very ſmall Loſs, the dead and wounded together not exceeding 100 Men, amongſt which are two Cornets, two Lieutenants, and an Enſign.

All the General Officers, (amongſt whom Major General Count Konigſegg, had a Horſe ſhot under him, and received a ſlight Wound by the Fall) Officers and Soldiers, ſhewed extraordinary Zeal and Bravery, and the new Recruits behaved with Reſolution.

Major General Brethach attacked by my Order a Caſtle called Stubenberg, where was a Garriſon of the Enemy, which made an obſtinate Defence, but were obliged to ſurrender Priſoners of War upon the coming up of General Bernclau, who was returning from his Expedition to Pfarkirchen.

I had ordered General Hohenembs to advance with his Body of Obſervation, in Proportion as I ſhould draw near to Braunau. He executed his Orders, and I ſent him immediate Advice of our Succeſs, with Directions to advance towards Braunau, in order to intercept thoſe that fled that Way. For this Purpoſe he detached General Barangay in the Night with 800 Huſſars and as many Croates, who made themſelves Maſters of the Convent of Ranzhoffen; but this could not be done till after Midnight, as the Meſſenger I had ſent was obliged to go a good Way about to paſs the Inn, ſo that the Enemy's Cavalry having again left Braunau, paſſed at Eleven at Night by Ranzhoffen towards Burghauſen: The Remainder of their Troops continues ſtill ſhut up in Braunau.

Upon Occaſion of Singing the Te Deum Today for this Victory, I made a full Diſcharge of our Artillery towards the Town, and we continue throwing Bombs into it. The Priſoners I have ſent into Upper Auſtria, till your Majeſty's further Commands, being the beſt Officers belonging to the Enemy. I ſend the Count de Lucheſe with this Relation, who will have the Honour of giving your Majeſty a farther Account of all Particulars by Word of Mouth.

Prague,

Prague, May 14, N. S. The Queen receiv'd the News of Prince Charles's Victory near Braunau at the Moment ſhe was entring the Cathedral Church to be crown'd, ſo that the Coronation began, by her Majeſty's Order, with a Te Deum. The Account was brought by General Lucheſe, preceded by eight Poſtillions, and two Poſtmaſters. The whole Loſs of the Enemy is certainly above 4000 Men, tho' it is impoſſible to compute the exact Number, as there were ſo many drowned in the Inn. We hear that Prince Charles, having left a ſufficient Force to block up Braunau, marched himſelf, after the Battle, to attack the French on the Side of Dingelfing. His whole Army conſiſted of eight Regiments of Foot, four of Horſe, and two of Huſſars, making in all about 16,000 Men.

Mentz, May 17, N. S. We hear from Bavaria, that the Auſtrians have cut off the Communication between the French and Count Seckendorf, and that the Croates have made a ſucceſsful Irruption into that Country on the Side of Kuffſtein and Inſpruch, and having made themſelves Maſters of ſeveral Paſſes and Forts, particularly of Aurburg, have puſhed their March quite to Roſenheim, which lies within 10 Leagues of Munich.

Hanover, May 20, N. S. His Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland arrived here this Morning, about Ten of the Clock, in perfect Health.

Hague, May 24, N. S. This Day the Council of State have iſſued the following Liſt of the Generals who are to command the 20,000 Men deſigned for the Aſſiſtance of the Queen of Hungary, and of the Troops which are to compoſe that Body.
